TO THE HONORABLE CHIEF JUSTICE

AND JUSTICES OF THE SUPREME COURT:

Submitted herewith is the Statistical Supplement to the Annual Report of the Administrative Director of the Courts for the court year September 1, 1980 through August 31, 1981.

The Annual Report, published previously in a separate volume, contains full narrative coverage of the activities and accomplishments of the court system during the court year, as well as a brief statistical digest highlighting work load activities.

This Statistical Supplement contains detailed statistical information concerning utilization of judge time and the operation of New Jersey's courts, and is of particular interest to trial court managers as well as persons and agencies interested or involved in the operation, planning, and budgeting of the judicial system. A whole host of detailed information concerning the operation of programs and trial courts in each county is contained herein.

A separate publication, Proceedings in the Municipal Courts, contains detailed statistical data on the work of New Jersey's 529 municipal courts and the County District Courts that exercise concurrent jurisdiction.

The extraordinary efforts of all who participated in the collection and preparation of this information is gratefully acknowledged.

Respectfully submitted,

STATISTICAL HIGHLIGHTS, OVERVIEW AND JUDICIAL WORKLOAD

HIGHLIGHTS

CALENDAR CLEARANCE

For the second consecutive year, New Jersey's courts disposed of more cases than were added: 711,391 terminations compared to 700,516 cases added. The goal of calendar clearance had previously been achieved only three times since 1948, once in each decade of the 1950's, 1960's, and 1970's. The past year, however, marked the first time in history that the court system cleared overall for two years in a row. The success at achieving clearance is particularly noteworthy because the total number of cases added in 1981 increased by 6.9%, and the time consuming trial court calendars of Law, Civil and Law, Criminal had increases of 8% and 27%, respectively.

COMMITTEE ON EFFICIENCY

The Supreme Court Committee on Efficiency in the Operations of the Courts brought together businessmen, government leaders of all levels, and judges in a major effort to improve the efficiency and productivity of the trial courts. Chaired by Robert Van Fossan, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company, the Committee presented reports to the 1981 Judicial Conference preliminary to presenting its first-year report to the Supreme Court in 1982.

The findings in the report go to the heart of trial court operation. The Committee found that the trial courts operated not as one comprehensive court organization, but in different ways in each county, subject to the vicissitudes of approaches followed by independent units within each county. While these separate units seek to do their best within their own areas of operation, their performance would be improved by better integration into the overall operations of the Judiciary, where they would be part of a total organization which sustained and supported them. This lack of cohesiveness, particularly with respect to such vital functions as caseflow management, severely handicaps the Judiciary in its ability to achieve management goals.

The Committee recommended several major changes to integrate the trial court support system and to achieve improved judicial accountability. The recommendations include state funding of the trial courts and their support system, the creation of a statewide judicial personnel system, better internal management in the Judiciary, direct judicial control over clerical support operations, and the use of modern records management and information processing.

SPEEDY TRIAL

After months of local and statewide planning, the criminal Speedy Trial program began on January 1, 1981. The program sets a goal over a three-year period of reducing the time from arrest to disposition to 135 days for all but exceptional cases. The statewide program, the first of its kind in the nation, sets specific time goals for each of the major intervals of the criminal case process.

In the first year, the program achieved notable successes. Most importantly, the median time from complaint to disposition for all criminal cases that went to trial declined from 350 days in late-1980 to just 217 days at the end of 1981. In addition, nearly three-quarters of the 1981 criminal case filings were tried within 161 days, compared with just one-third in 1980.

These impressive results showed that the Speedy Trial program had succeeded in substantially accomplishing its first year goals. More complete data during 1982, and the imposition of the more demanding second-year time goals, present continued challenges for the program; but Speedy Trial in New Jersey has been launched successfully.

COMPUTERIZATION AND MANAGEMENT INFORMATION

The New Jersey project for computerization in the courts advanced considerably during 1981. A Supreme Court committee working with AOC staff and the National Center for State Courts examined the need for computerization and the ways to introduce it. The committee has as its goal the development of a master plan for automation at all levels of court.

Other management information projects continued with the need for integration with the master plan in mind. Chief among them is CAMIS, or computer-assisted micrographics, being developed in the Superior Court. CAMIS became operational in the Matrimonial Division during 1981, and it was implemented in General Equity as well. Installation in the Law Division will take effect in September 1982. CAMIS, which permits the elimination of manual docketing and the production of timely reports for case management, also eliminates the duplicate filing of papers with both the county offices and the Superior Court Clerk in Trenton.

The project to develop an automated system to manage the Superior Court Trust Fund also advanced. Working with the National Center, the AOC developed a computer program to manage each of the 7,000 plus individual accounts in the Fund, and to accurately post accrued interest on a timely basis.

JUVENILE JUSTICE/FAMILY COURT

In anticipation of legislation proposing major changes in the juvenile justice system and the creation of the long-sought family court, Chief Justice Wilentz appointed a five-member Preliminary Family Part Planning Committee. Chaired by Associate Justice Morris Pashman, the committee's mandate is to identify major policy issues to confront the Judiciary in its effort to implement the family court concept. Once identified these issues will then be referred to a broad-based Supreme Court Committee for discussion and recommendation.

The legislation will bring large scale changes to the courts which must be accommodated by sound advance planning. It would abolish the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court and establish county family courts, require family crisis intervention units in every county, eliminate the offense category Juveniles in Need of Supervision, revise criteria for disclosure of information about juvenile offenders, and authorize the court to order both the juvenile and his or her parents to participate in programs to rehabilitate the juvenile.

YOUTH SERVICES/COMMUNITY INVOLVEMENT

The Chief Justice and the State Attorney General have launched a community-based effort to fight juvenile delinquency through the Youth Services/Community Involvement Project.

Starting with pilot committees in Burlington, Middlesex, and Somerset Counties, the new program offers citizens an opportunity work with court, law enforcement, education, police, child welfare professionals, and others to assist children in trouble and to help curb juvenile delinquency.

Commissions have been established at the municipal, county, and state levels. It is the first such project to attempt to coordinate the responses to juvenile delinquency at the state and county levels. With this program, the Judiciary and law enforcement system are calling upon the knowledge and participation of key community representatives to confront the difficult issues of juvenile delinquency in an effort to find new approaches to help resolve these problems.

CHILD SUPPORT ENFORCEMENT

The Child Support Enforcement Program, jointly administered by Probation Departments and county welfare agencies, now involves more than a quarter of a million children, or one in every eight children living in New Jersey. In 1981, the program collected $124.4 million in court ordered support payments, a 10% increase over the previous year. A total of $92.4 million went directly to families not on welfare, and $31.9 million went to county welfare boards as reimbursement for welfare payments. The 1981 caseload in child support enforcement increased 8% over the previous year to 140,982 cases.

BAIL REFORM

The 10% cash bail program became universal in all New Jersey counties during the year. The program allows a judge to release defendants who post 10% of the bail amount, but no less than $25. Previously, a defendant's basic alternative to jail pending trial was to seek the assistance of a bail bondsman whose rates were prohibitive to many, thus increasing the number of persons incarcerated at county expense. Since many such persons had roots in the community which largely assured their appearance, which is the fundamental purpose of posting bond, the new program provided a low cost and humanitarian approach for accommodating both social and individual needs without unnecessary imposition on the taxpayers of the county.

During the year judges in certain municipalities in Essex and Passaic Counties were given greater authority in setting bail in an experimental relaxation of Rule 3:26-2. Under the experiment certain municipal judges may set bail in cases involving aggravated assault, aggravated sexual assault, and second degree robbery, which, under the rule, previously could only be set by a Superior Court Judge. These two counties were selected because of heavy workload and extensive time delays experienced in getting bail conditions set. The experiment is being closely monitored.

JAIL OVERCROWDING

Throughout 1981, the total population in county jails exceeded capacity. To help insure that the situation would be closely watched, the Administrative Office of the Courts developed a system for monitoring the county jail populations on a weekly basis for court, law enforcement, and State and county corrections officials. It also participated on a Task Force to study prison overcrowding and recommend alternative space for prisoners. The AOC recommendation for intensive probation supervision was considered to be a significant innovation directed toward alleviating the prison overcrowding problem. Under intensive supervision, certain selected nonviolent offenders may gain release from prison by remaining under a probation officer's close supervision and by maintaining steady employment.

RESTITUTION AND COMMUNITY SERVICE: ALTERNATIVES TO PROSECUTION

Six counties pursued restitution and community service work during the year with emphasis on rehabilitation of the defendant. A total of 459 people, out of 1,453 considered, were selected for the program. More than half of those people paid restitution totalling $234,882, the rest performed community service work for a total of 167 community agencies, and seven individuals paid restitution and performed community service. Examples of community service include: assistance to probation departments, service on youth "hotlines," repairs and improvements to public playgrounds.

VIOLENT CRIMES COMPENSATION

Accelerated efforts to improve penalty assessment and collection under the Violent Crimes Compensation

Act of 1980, produced more than $700,000 in collections and an average 98% assessment rate in Superior and Municipal Courts, during the first seven months of 1981. The law requires that a minimum penalty of $25 for all persons convicted of a crime or the indictable offense of simple assault. If the crime caused injury or death, the sentencing judge can impose a penalty up to $10,000 for each criminal act. These penalties are turned over to the Violent Crimes Compensation Baord, which aids crime victims. Collections are made by the courts and county probation departments, and by the Department of Corrections for penalties owed by those incarcerated.

SUPREME COURT TASK FORCE ON SMALL CLAIMS

During the Spring of 1981, Chief Justice Robert N. Wilentz appointed the Task Force on Small Claims and in his mandate to its members encouraged them to "be bold" in suggesting improvements covering small claims litigation. The Task Force, composed of members of the bench and bar, focused on five areas for improvement will submit its Final Report to the Supreme Court Committee on County District Court in 1982.

The five areas examined by the Task Force in the Small Claims Division of the County District Court are:

1. Statutes and rules concerning jurisdiction and practice;
2. Information to the public and litigants, filing and pretrial matters;
3. Alternate modes of dispute resolution or case disposition;
4. Conduct at the court trial; and
5. Post-trial matters.

The Task Force is recommending that, where appropriate, alternative court hours be available for hearing disputes, further, it recommends that a variety of notices and explanations be given to the parties both during the course of litigation so that the parties truly understand the functioning of the court and the resolution of their dispute and also after judgment is rendered so that payment is more likely. The Task Force also recommends that alternative methods of dispute resolution, such as mediation, be explored to provide assistance to all parties.

CIVIL APPEALS SETTLEMENT PROGRAM

The first six months of an experimental Civil Appeals Settlement Program has produced a success rate of more than 40%. The program, conducted by Judge Baruch Seidman, Appellate Division Superior Court, is designed to reduce the number of cases heard in the Appellate Division. Essentially the program deals with negligence, divorce property settlements, wills and estates, and general equity cases. Criminal matters are not heard.

The appeals settlement program offers direct financial benefits to all concerned. Litigants save considerably on the costs of an appeal, and the state saves resources also. The settlements are achieved more quickly than a contested appeal could be, and the results are often more satisfactory than a court-imposed decision might be.

The settlement program offers civil litigants the opportunity for settlement prior to the argument of their appeal. A settlement conference is held with Judge Seidman, who has been the only judge assigned to the program since its inception in Fall of 1981. At the conference, a settlement may be achieved or issues in controversy may be narrowed. During the first six months, 205 conferences were held, and 90 cases settled either prior to conference or following the settlement conference.

JURY UTILIZATION AND MANAGEMENT

The past court year signalled the start of comprehensive jury system management in New Jersey. Until this time, the jury systems operated independently in each county, and little centralized management existed.

The first step in a statewide jury program was to collect data on each county's jury operations. The data helped to identify concerns and problems, especially concerning jury system management and the experiences of jurors. Many of the problems were similar from county to county, emphasizing the utility of a statewide program. Work also progressed in the next step in the project, the development of performance standards for jury systems.

The five pilot counties selected under L.E.A.A.'s Jury Utilization/ Management Incentive Program to experiment with modern management techniques began their efforts mid-way through the court year. Two of the counties instituted noteworthy changes during the court year. Camden County instituted a one day/ one trial term of service, starting in March of 1981. Under one day/one trial, jurors are summoned for one day only. If not selected for a trial during the day, the juror is released from service. If selected to sit on a trial, the juror serves until the end of the trial and is then released from service. The program in Camden has been a tremendous success both from the juror's and administrator's perspective. In conjunction with other measures taken to streamline the administrative operation, Camden has projected an overall savings of approximately $40,000 over a one year period. Camden's program has convinced other counties to adopt reduced service terms.

Union County attacked an administrative problem of excessive paperwork by adopting a one-step qualification and summoning system. Under the traditional system, prospective jurors are mailed a qualification questionnaire and, at some later date, the person may receive a summons for service. The one-step concept allows a prospecive juror to be qualified and summoned using one mailing, thus reducing postage and forms costs substantially. Use of the one step system also streamlines administrative processes involved with getting jurors to the court house. Administrators in Union County project a $30,000 savings for the first year of operation.

UNION COUNTY NIGHT COURT

Court is in session two nights a month in Union County in an experimental program approved by the Supreme Court and begun in January, 1980. The program is designed to hear cases involving small amounts in controversy using as its jurisdictional limit that established for District Court ($5,000 or less). Using a rotating staff of judges, law clerks, and support personnel, the program has been able to serve a large number of litigants at a relatively low cost.

The Night Court is conducted on the first and third Wednesday or Thursday of each month. It begins at 6:00 P.M. and continues until all cases scheduled for that night have been heard, usually ending by 9:30 P.M. There are one or two judges in attendance for each session as well as three law clerks, two sergeants-at-arms and a court clerk. A supervisor is also present to make the files and records available.

Whether the matter is settled or tried, Night Court gives the litigants an opportunity to appear at a time which they have found to be more convenient than the regular court hours. The Night Court experiment demonstrates the Court's awareness of and concern for the position of litigants who appear pro se in disputes that are not large in the amount of money involved.

CREDIT CARDS

A three-month experiment with the use of credit cards in Vicinage 1 (Atlantic, Cape May, Cumberland, and Salem Counties) to post bail, pay fees or fines, or installments on fees has worked well and is currently under consideration for Statewide implementation. There is no charge or expense to the court.

The procedure involves the issuance of a check payable to the Court by Western Union and the placement of the amount, plus all charges and fees on the Master-charge or Visa card of the person wishing to pay the bail, fee or fine, after verification is obtained by Western Union from the credit card company. This is a 24-hour service and the transactions are all done by phone. The procedure permits defendants to be released on bail promptly, reducing the time spent in jail waiting for other methods of posting bail.

MOTION PRACTICE

In response to bulging motion calendars and complaints from the bench, bar and public, the Supreme Court adopted reforms, contained in Court Rule 1:6-2, designed to reduce the number of motions filed and the time spent hearing arguments.

The several points of Rule 1:6-2 are as follows:

.All motions submitted by attorneys must contain a proposed form of order for consideration by the Court. Further, all motions must contain a checklist which can be used by the court to indicate all papers which were considered.

.Certain motions, including those in complex cases, can be filed directly with a judge.

.Civil discovery and calendar motions will not be listed for oral argument. Further, such motions will not be considered at all unless the moving party certified that efforts have been made to settle the dispute.

.The Court may direct that any argument of a motion be by telephone conference.

Expanded use of telephone conferences for motions has been especially successful ir meeting the goals. The procedure frees judges for more bench time, and reduces the cost to litigants because of the time and travel savings on the part of lawyers.

An experimental program of telephone conferences began in 1981 in Vicinage 1. Assisted by the Institute for Court Management and the ABA Commission to Reduce Court Costs and Delay, courts in the vicinage heard oral arguments on civil motions and other matters by telephone instead of in-court hearings. During the first nine months of the experiment, over 150 civil motions were argued in the vicinage, and over 80% of them were conducted by telephone conference. Motions to compel discovery and for summary judgment were most frequently argued in a telephone conference. Use of the telephone saved at least 23,000 miles of attorney travel and many hours of time for judges and attorneys. A companion project to use telephone conferences for some criminal matters began in late 1981.

SHOPLIFTERS PROGRAM

First offenders convicted of shoplifting may, at the judge's discretion, receive a suspended sentence, if they agree to attend an anti-shoplifting course given by the National Corrective Training Institute (NCTI), in a pilot program underway in several municipal courts. The offenders must agree to complete the course and return to court.

The 8-hour course, offered at a regional site, is designed to aid the offender in understanding the impulse behind this anti-social behavior to prevent future incidents. The AOC is collecting data on the program for evaluation and possible implementation statewide.

CAMERAS IN THE COURTROOM

During 1981, the Supreme Court made permanent the rules permitting film, tape and still cameras in court under specific guidelines, first introduced as an experiment in 1979. The guidelines require individual approval before cameras can be admitted, and specify equipment, position, and other requirements the media must meet. The Court rules do not permit cameras in court in cases involving matrimonial disputes, juvenile cases, or trade secrets, or in municipal courts.

PUBLIC TELEVISION ON THE COURTS

In 1981, the Administrative Office of the Courts' Judicial Education and Training Unit and New Jersey Network, the State public television agency, co-produced six one-hour segments on court programs. The programs were aired live at noon on weekdays over the network's four stations. Televisions were set up in courthouses throughout the State for the convenience of court personnel, attorneys, jurors, and other citizens. The programs covered topics such as speedy trial, pre-trial programs, bail and court delay reduction measures, and featured a call-in portion for questions answered by guests, including Chief Justice Robert N. Wilentz.

PUBLIC MEMBERS OF COMMITTEES

Efforts to broaden public representation on Supreme Court Committees are continuing. More than a dozen non-attorneys are currently serving on seven standing committees. Representatives of the broadcast and print media are now serving on the Committee on Media Relations, while other public members serve on the Advisory Committee on Professional Ethics, Advisory Committee on Judicial Conduct, Disciplinary Review Board, Advisory Committee on Bar Admissions, Committee on the Unauthorized Practice of Law and the Clients' Security Fund.

MUNICIPAL COURT REFORM

Management studies of the Newark and Paterson Municipal Courts have been completed in an ongoing program of the Administrative Office of the Courts to examine New Jersey's ten largest municipal courts. The two studies completed have yielded detailed recommendations to improve court operations, which are being implemented.

The remaining courts to be studied are: Trenton, East Orange, Hoboken, Jersey City, New Brunswick, Camden, Elizabeth, Irvington.

BAR EXAM REFORM

In 1981, the Supreme Court's Committee to Evaluate Bar Adminisstion Requirements reported to the Court, which prompted significant changes in the bar examination.

Commencing with the February 1982 bar examination, each candidate is now required to pass both the multistate bar examination and the New Jersey essay questions. The scoring of the essay has been greatly simplified. The questions have been shortened and the design of the questions is more varied.

All candidates for admission to the bar must complete the skills and methods course before admission and are required to complete the Multistate Professional Responsibility Examination successfully or submit evidence of the satisfactory completion of a law school course in legal ethics. The Supreme Court has also mandated a review of the skills course to increase its effectiveness.

RANDOM AUDIT COMPLIANCE PROGRAM

The Random Audit Compliance Program, financed by the Clients' Security Fund, began in 1981 to ensure that lawyers are fully aware of and comply with stringent recordkeeping requirements imposed by the Supreme Court. The program involves the periodic review of business and trust account records that all attorneys are required to maintain when handling clients' funds.

The program is designed to aid attorneys in acquiring the most efficient methods of office accounting procedures, and consists of two full-time auditors and clerical support staff. Attorneys are randomly selected and audited on a county-by-county basis. A total of 144 audits in 11 counties have been completed.

ATTORNEY CERTIFICATION

Upon the recommendations of the Board of Trial Attorney Certification, the Supreme Court certified 265 civil and 81 criminal trial attorneys practicing in New Jersey. The trial attorney certification program, entirely voluntary, is an effort to give attorneys an opportunity to show experience in trial work and to give the public a list of some of the attorneys with trial experience.

Attorneys interested in certification must submit an extensive application and pass a full-day examination. The program, divided into civil and criminal parts, is administered by the 11-member Board of Trial Attorney Certification. Certification by the the Board is for seven years, after which the attorney must seek recertification.

The Supreme Court will oversee the program and review the recommendations of the Board for certification twice each year.

STATISTICAL OVERVIEW

CALENDAR CLEARANCE

During the 1981 court year, cases added in the New Jersey court system, excluding municipal courts, increased by 6.9% to a record level of 700,516. Cases disposed also increased, to a record level of 711,391, exceeding the number of cases added by 10,875.

Each year over the last five years the number of cases added to the New Jersey court dockets has increased. From 541,867 in 1976 cases added yearly have grown by 29.3% to 700,516. Dispositions, however, have increased at an even faster rate, 34.4%. The graph below shows the trend in cases added, disposed, and pending.

Disposing of at least as many cases as were added has been the explicit "calendar clearance" goal of the judiciary for the past two court years. The margin of clearance during 1981 of 10,875 cases afforded a 5.1% decrease in the number of cases pending during the year.

Fig. 1
CASELOAD 1980-81

TOTAL CASES	1980	1981	%Change
Added	655,517	700,516	+6.9%
Disposed	675,835	711,391	+5.3%
Pending	212,768*	201,893	-5.1%
Clearance	+20,318	+10,875

Nine of the 13 trial and appellate calendars and the Tax Court achieved clearance in 1981. All five calendars of the limited jurisdiction trial courts -- County District, Juvenile Delinquency, Juveniles in Need of Supervision (JINS), Domestic Relations, and Tax Court -- had more dispositions than cases added. Four of the eight Superior Court trial calendars cleared during 1981. Of the two appellate court calendars, the Supreme Court was able to clear its calendar.

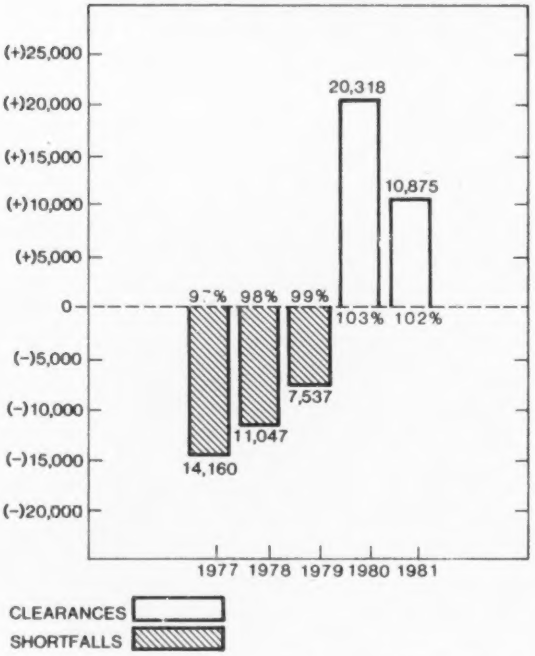
CALENDAR CLEARANCES BY COURT YEAR FOR ALL COURTS 1977 - 1981



INCLUDES TAX COURT, SUPREME COURT & APPELLATE DIV.

The cumulative clearance of the past two court years (31,193 cases) has all but eradicated the cumulative short-fall of 32,744 cases accumulated during the prior three court years (1977 to 1979).

Although the court system has become bigger (adding the Tax Court in 1979) and has increased by nearly one-fourth in the volume of incoming cases during the past five years, the system is now achieving equilibrium and cutting into the backlog which had plagued it for a number of years.

CASES ADDED

Total cases added in the trial and appellate courts (exclusive of the municipal courts) increased by 49,999 cases to an all-time high of 700,516 for the court year ending August 31, 1981. This increase of nearly 50,000 cases was the largest jump in total cases added ever recorded. Further, in percentage terms, it amounted to 6.9%, representing the largest percentage increase in annual cases added registered in the past seven years.

Among individual dockets (or court calendars), the fastest growing calendars were Criminal, 26.6%, Tax, 20.5%, and the Appellate Division, 14.6%, followed closely by Domestic Relations, 12.8%. On the basis of absolute numbers, the growth in cases added was much more evenly distributed, and in general favored the larger volume, limited jurisdiction trial courts. Calendars showing the largest increases in the number of cases added were: Domestic Relations, 10,214, Juvenile Delinquency, 7,772, County District, 7,024, and Criminal, 6,121.

The distribution of cases added reflects a heavy concentration of cases on three high-volume calendars, County District, Domestic Relations, and Juvenile Delinquency. Together, these calendars account for more than Trial court cases added in the state's 12 judicial districts (vicinages) increased by 6.7% or 42,859 cases during the 1981 court year. Every vicinage recorded an increase in trial court cases added over the 1980 court year.

Vicinages located in the central portion of the state showed the greatest percentage growth in cases added. Vicinage #3, Burlington/Ocean, which extends across the south central portion of the state, had the highest growth with 9.5%, followed closely by Vicinage #12, Union, with 9.1%. Two other vicinages, Vicinage #9, Monmouth (8.4%), and Vicinage #6, Hudson (+8.2%) showed increases in cases added of over 8.0%.

* The chart shows a substantial increase in the Matrimonial calendar as well (7,388 cases, or 29.7%). This increase is due primarily to a redefinition in terms which results in counting each case sooner. Since the increase in this one year is due more to the method of counting than to a real increase in workload, the Matrimonial calendar is not included in these comparisons of workload.

The distribution by vicinage of cases added during 1981 (exclusive of the supreme, appellate, and tax courts) reflects the heavy concentration of trial court cases in Vicinage #5, Essex, which had 19.0% of all trial cases in the State. Vicinage #4, Camden/Gloucester, was second in cases added with 9.1% of the trial cases in the State. Only three other vicinages had 8% or more of the State's added caseload: Hudson, Bergen, and the Atlantic vicinage.

DISPOSITIONS

Cases disposed of in the trial and appellate courts increased by 35,556 to an all-time high of 711,391 for court year 1981. This was the fifteenth consecutive year that total cases disposed of in the court system have increased over the prior year.

In percentage terms, total dispositions increased by 5.3% over the 675,835 dispositions recorded during the 1980 court year. Although this rate of increase was not nearly so great as the 9.2% increase in total productivity achieved in 1980 when Tax Court workload data was first integrated into the court system totals, 1981 marked the fourth consecutive court year in which total dispositions have increased by more than 5%. This indicates that the court system has been able to achieve sustained growth in productivity for a period of years.

Much of the growth in dispositions occurred on the Superior Court trial calendars, cases which typically require more judge time per disposition. The Tax Court had the greatest growth in dispositions, but the next three calendars in terms of rate of increase in dispositions were all Superior Court calendars: Matrimonial, 17.7%, Criminal, 16.8%, (the first year of the Criminal Speedy Trial Program), and General Equity, 13.0%.

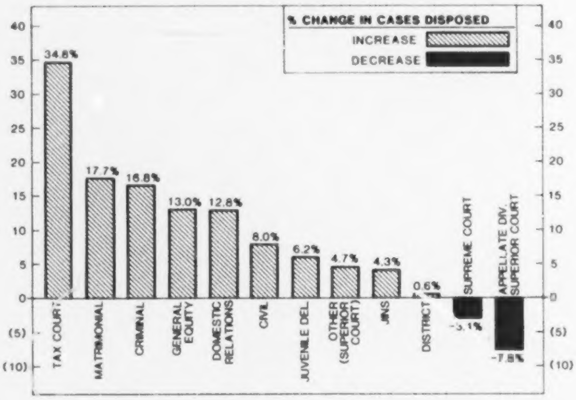
PERCENTAGE CHANGE IN CASES DISPOSED BY CALENDAR 1980 - 81



By number of cases, the increase in dispositions was much more evenly distributed (due to the large volumes of limited jurisdictional court calendars where even a small percentage increase translates into a large number of cases). Calendars recording the greatest increase in the number of dispositions are: Domestic Relations, 10,324, Juvenile Delinquent, 5,944, Matrimonial, 4,680, Tax, 4,015, and Criminal, 3,889. Only the two appellate calendars and the Post-Conviction Relief calendar (included in Other) recorded fewer dispositions in 1981 than in 1980.

During the 1981 court year almost all calendars achieved record levels of dispositions. This was true for all major Superior Court calendars except Criminal. The 27,055 dispositions for the Criminal calendar were the most in nine years, ranking second to the 27,362 criminal dispositions achieved in 1972. All-time record disposition levels were also achieved on all limited jurisdiction trial calendars: Juvenile Delinquency, JINS, Domestic Relations, County District, and Tax Court.

More than 80% of all dispositions recorded are from the calendars of the limited jurisdiction trial court, while 19% of dispositions come from general jurisdiction court dockets, and less than 1% come from appellate court dockets.

It is interesting to compare the distribution of trial calendar dispositions with the distribution of judge hours required to hear cases from those calendars during the 1981 court year.

The distribution of trial calendar dispositions stands in stark contrast with the distribution of judges required to dispose of those cases. Less than 70 (or 22.4%) of the state's average of 296 judges were needed to dispose of matters heard in limited jurisdiction trial courts whereas matters heard in Superior Court trial divisions required approximately 202 or 68.2% of the State's judicial strength and matters heard in the state's appellate courts required 28 or 9.4% of the state's judges.

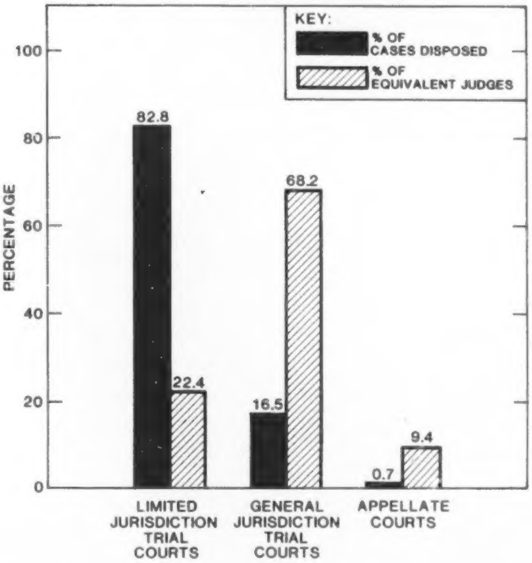
PERCENT OF CASES DISPOSED AND EQUIVALENT JUDGES BY TYPE OF COURT, 1980-81



Trial court dispositions in the state's 12 judicial districts increased by 4.9%, or 31,968 cases, during 1981. Eleven of the 12 vicinages showed an increase in dispositions as compared with the prior year.

Vicinages located along the Atlantic shore showed the greatest increase in cases disposed. The Monmouth vicinage (Vicinage #9), located in the central section of the state, led the way with an 11.4% increase. Four other vicinages reflected increases in cases disposed of, exceeding 6.0%. Those were: Vicinage #1, Atlantic/Cape May/Cumberland/Salem, 8.0%; Vicinage #3, Burlington/Ocean, 7.1%; Vicinage #6, Hudson, 6.7%; Vicinage #11, Passaic, 6.7%.

Six vicinages reported increases in the number of cases disposed of totaling 3,000 cases or more. Five of those were vicinages with growth rates exceeding 6.0%. Leading vicinages in increased number of dispositions were: Vicinage #9, Monmouth, 4,468 cases; Vicinage #1, Atlantic/Cape May/Cumberland/Salem, 4,196 cases; Vicinage #5, Essex, 4,099 cases; Vicinage #3, Burlington/Ocean, 3,607 cases; Vicinage #6, Hudson, 3,606 cases; Vicinage #11, Passaic, 3,178 cases.

CASES PENDING

Total cases pending in the trial and appellate courts decreased by 10,875 cases to stand at 201,893 at the end of the 1981 court year. (This figure includes adjustments for recounts and changes in statistical definitions.)

This was the second consecutive year that the number of pending cases decreased. The court system has approximately the same number of cases pending (after adjustments) that were pending five years ago, while the volume of cases added has increased by more than 26% during this same period.

Examining individual court calendars, a total of five calendars recorded decreases in the number of pending cases larger than 10%. Those dockets were: Tax, -35.3%, General Equity, -22.3%, County District, -13.2%, Domestic Relations, -12.0% and JINS, -11.5%. Most of the increases in the pending caseload occurred on Superior Court dockets: Appellate Division, 16.1%, Criminal, 6.9%, and Matrimonial, 5.5% (as a result of the changed definition of cases added).

the remaining 3.0% of all cases pending. Clearly, pending cases are more of a factor in the court calendars that require relatively more judge time.

In total, cases pending in the state's 12 vicinages decreased by 4,466 cases or 2.4% from 187,156 cases at the start of the year to 182,690 at the close. Seven vicinages showed decreases in the number of cases pending, while the remaining five vicinages showed increases in the pending caseload.

Three vicinages had decreases in pending caseloads exceeding 10%. Those were Vicinage #9, Monmouth, -16.6%, Vicinage #7, Mercer/Hunterdon/Somerset, -14.5%, and Vicinage #1, Atlantic/Cape May/Cumberland/Salem, -12.0%. Two vicinages had an increase in pending caseloads of more than 5%, Vicinage #11, Passaic, +7.7% and Vicinage #6, Hudson, +7.3%.

PENDING CASELOAD COMPARED TO ANNUAL VOLUME OF CASES DISPOSED

Another means to evaluate a court's pending caseload is to compare the pending caseload to the monthly volume of cases disposed of. This calculation has been termed an "inventory control index" and is calculated by dividing the annual number of terminations (dispositions) by 12 to arrive at a monthly disposition rate. By dividing the number of cases pending by the monthly disposition rate, an index can be created representing the number of months it would take the court to dispose of all of its pending caseload.

In 1981, all of the limited jurisdiction trial courts except the Tax Court had low inventory control indices. The Domestic Relations calendar has the lowest index of any calendar with .8 months. The index for the JINS calendar is nearly as low, at .9 months. Both the Juvenile Delinquency and County District calendars have indices of 1.5 months.

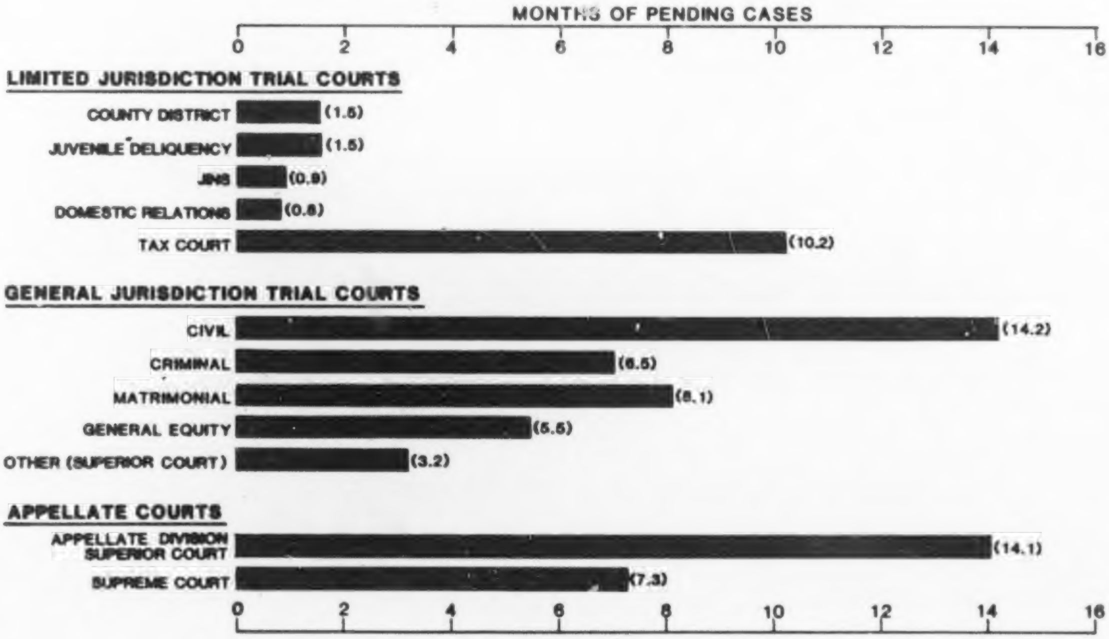
ACTIVE CASES PENDING TRIAL AUGUST 31,1981 – EXPRESSED IN MONTHS



These indices indicate that by and large the limited jurisdiction courts are up to date and have no excess delay among their active caseload. (These figures do not include inactive cases.) Five years ago, each of these three calendars had higher inventory indices: Domestic Relations, 1.1 months, JINS, 1.3 months, Juvenile Delinquency, 2.1 months.

General jurisdiction trial courts (Superior Court trial calendars) generally have longer time intervals from filing to case disposition and higher inventory indices due to the increased need for discovery, research, and investigation of facts and issues.

The three miscellaneous calendars termed "Other" (post-conviction relief, contested probate, and municipal appeals) have the lowest pending case index on the Superior Court calendars in 1981 at 3.2 months.

The Chancery Division calendar of the Superior Court had the next lowest inventory indices equalling 5.5 months for General Equity and 8.1 months for Matrimonial. In 1977, the inventory index for General Equity was 6.7 months. No comparison can be made for the Matrimonial calendar since there has been a change in the statistical reporting definition of cases added.

The two Law Division calendars (Civil and Criminal) have much greater pending caseload indices. The Civil index of 14.2 months while the Criminal calendar has an index of 6.5 months for active non-fugitive cases. There are more than a year of cases pending trial on the Civil calendar, representing a backlog problem. Both of the pending case indices are lower than comparable indices from 1977: Civil was 19.0 months and Criminal was 8.3 months.

The state's two appellate courts, the Appellate Division of the Superior Court and the Supreme Court, have pending case indices of 14.1 months and 7.3 months respectively. The pending caseload of the Appellate Division indicates a backlog problem while the pending caseload in the Supreme Court is at an appropriate level considering the complexity of these appeals. In 1977, the Appellate Division's caseload index was 16.0 months and the index for the Supreme Court was 8.7 months indicating substantially higher pending case indices five years ago.

Also, the caseload index for 1981 compared to 1980 shows substantial improvement in most courts.

This favorable comparison to pending case indices of past years shows the substantial progress made in keeping the work of the New Jersey courts current. As the next section shows, these improving measures of the work of the courts at all levels come from increases in the productivity of the judges.

JUDICIAL WORKLOAD

AUTHORIZED JUDGESHIPS

The New Jersey court system is comprised of 329 authorized judgeships. The court of last resort, the Supreme Court, has 7 authorized judgeships. The Superior Court is divided into two divisions totaling 236 authorized judgeships. the Appellate Division (the court of intermediate appeal) has 21 of the 236 authorized judgeships while the trial divisions (general jurisdiction trial courts) are authorized for the remaining 215 positions. There are three limited jurisdiction courts in New Jersey: the Tax Court (12 authorized judgeships), the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court (35 authorized judgeships), and the County District Court (39 authorized judgeships).

In the past five years, the number of authorized judgeships has increased by 23 due mainly to the addition of the Tax Court 12 authorized judgeships) to the court system in 1979. The remaining growth in authorized judgeships has occurred in the Superior Court (8 authorized judgeships)* and the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Courts (3 authorized judgeships).

Not all authorized judgeships are filled due to the time required for the gubernatorial nomination and the legislative approval process when judges leave the bench. Further, in the Tax Court and the Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court the need has not been clearly shown to fill all authorized positions.

At the close of the 1981 court year 31 of the 329 authorized positions were vacant (for a vacancy rate of 9.4%), meaning 298 judges were in office. The vacancy rate in 1981 was substantially lower than the vacancy rate a year earlier (38 unfilled positions, 11.6%), but is still above 1978, when vacancies dropped to 24 judgeships, or 7.6% of authorized judicial strength.

* The Tax Court was established on 7/1/79.

To gain a perspective of the growth in workload and responsibilities facing New Jersey judges it is meaningful to compare the growth in judgeships with the growth in judicial workload (cases added). Since 1977, total judgeships authorized have increased 7.5% from 306 to 329 but, however, since 1977, total cases added in the court system (other than the municipal courts) have increased by a sizeable 26.1% from 555,371 to 700,516. Because the growth in caseloads has been 3 to 4 times the rate of increases in judgeships, New Jersey judges must be increasingly productive if the court system is to keep pace with the inflow of new business.

Distribution of Judges

Due to the cross assignment powers of the Chief Justice, judges assigned to a particular court or county can be reassigned, either temporarily or permanently, to another court or county in response to changes in court workloads or to compensate for losses in judicial strength because of retirements, deaths, or extended illnesses. Also, retired judges can be recalled and temporarily assigned to the bench. A refined system of measuring judicial strength in each court and county has been developed by the Administrative Office to track judicial assignments on a daily basis.

Presented below is the average daily deployment of judges for the 1980 and 1981 court years. Judges classified as trial judges (excluding Tax Court judges) and retired judges are assigned to a particular county. Judicial assignments to the Supreme Court, the Appellate Division, Assignment Judge positions, and to the Tax Court are not further allocated to a particular county. Vacancies are calculated as the difference between authorized judicial strength and the total of available full-time (non-retired) judges in office.

* Allocated to particular counties.

The average number of full-time judges in office during 1981 was 296.7, an increase of 4.0 judges, or 1.3% over the average 292.7 judges in office during 1980. The average level of judicial vacancies fell from 36.3 in 1980 to 31.8 in 1981, a decrease of 12.4% (4 judgeships).

Retired judges recalled for temporary assignment to the trial courts averaged 6.7 per court day, up by 0.8 judges, or 13.6%, over the 5.9 retired judges recalled per court day during 1980. The net number of unfilled judicial positions decreased by 5.3, or 17.4%, from 30.4 in 1980 to 25.1 in 1981.

Trial judges assigned to particular counties and retired judges recalled for temporary service on the trial courts represent available trial court judges. During 1981 an average of 255.4 trial judges were available for work in the counties, up by 1.9% from the 250.6 available trial court judges assigned to the counties during the 1980 court year.

The distribution of available judges for 1981 and 1980 by county is displayed below in county/vicinage order. Essex County (Vicinage #5) had the greatest deployment of judges with 37.04 during 1981, followed by Bergen County (Vicinage #2) with 27.02 judges. Other large vicinages include Camden/Gloucester (Vicinage #4) with 24.18 judges (17.25 in Camden and 6.93 in Gloucester), Middlesex (Vicinage #8) with 23.33 judges, and Union (Vicinage #12) with 22.47 judges. Vicinages with the least deployment of judges include Morris/Sussex/Warren (Vicinage #10) with 12.64 judges, Monmouth (Vicinage #9) with 15.64 judges and Atlantic/Cape May/Cumberland/Salem (Vicinage #1) with 16.48 judges.

Since the State total of available judges grew by only 1.9%, there were very few large increases in judges assigned to any vicinage. The Union (+1.50) and Bergen (+1.31) vicinages were the only two to average one more available judge, while Middlesex (+0.92) was just below a full judge increase. In percentage terms, Union (+7.2%), Monmouth (+5.4%), Burlington/Ocean (+5.2%), Bergen (+5.1%), and Middlesex (+4.1%) showed the largest growth among vicinages, with Hunterdon (+13.4%), Cape May (+12.1%), and Gloucester (+9.1%) showing the greatest increase in judicial strength among counties. Figure 4 shows the changes in judicial resources in each county and vicinage.

Judges assigned to trial court work in the counties can be further allocated among six major calendar types using a concept termed equivalent judges. The average number of available judges is divided among the major court calendars by means of the hours reported on the Judges Weekly Reports. Displayed below are State totals of equivalent judges assigned to the six major trial court calendars in each county.

As with the number of judges assigned to each county, total equivalent judges increased by 4.7 judges, or 1.9%, for 1981 as compared with 1980.

Only two calendars showed increases in State total number of equivalent judges assigned, criminal and matrimonial.

* Excludes Supreme, Appellate and Tax Courts.

An increase of 6.7 equivalent judges, or 9.7%, was reflected on the Criminal calendar. The assignment of additional judge time to criminal cases shows the Judiciary's commitment to the speedy disposition of criminal cases and is a response to the tremendous increase in criminal case filings during 1981 (+26.6% over 1980). These additional judges assigned to the criminal calendar produced 16.8% more dispositions in 1981 compared with the prior year.

The increase of 1.7 equivalent judges, or 5.7%, in the number of judges assigned to the Matrimonial calendar coincided with a 17.7% increase in dispositions from the Matrimonial calendar.

All other trial calendars were able to produce more dispositions with the same or less judicial strength.

Although the Tax Court judges are centrally assigned and are not included in the available judge calculations, for the past two years 8.0 judges have been assigned to the Tax Court. With no increase in judicial strength the Tax Court judges were able to increase dispositions by 34.8%. This was the second full year that the Tax Court operated as part of the State's judicial system.

NUMBER OF TRIAL JUDGES COMPARED WITH WORKLOADS

Over the past five years (1977-1981), there has been a precipitous rise in trial court workloads. Cases added to trial court calendars have increased from 549,948 in 1977 to 686,165 in 1981 -- an increase of 24.8%. During this same period, the average of available trial court judges has grown much more slowly, increasing only 8.1% from 236.2 to 255.4. This means that since 1977 filings have risen from 2,328 to 2,687 for each trial judge available.

The court system has been able to cope with this rapid increase in incoming business by dramatic increase in dispositions. Dispositions per trial judge available has risen 19% to 2,704 cases in 1981, compared to 2,272 in 1977.

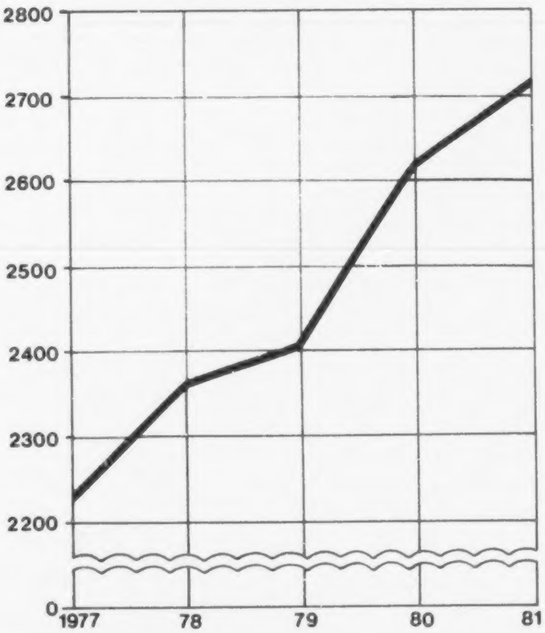
TRIAL COURT DISPOSITIONS
PER AVAILABLE JUDGE 1977-1981



The increase in productivity is no doubt due to several factors. Better calendar management techniques at the county and vicinage level are evident, and there may be better support for the judges. Primarily, however, the increased productivity is due to the extraordinary efforts of judges working harder, longer, and more effectively to meet court goals.

On a per-equivalent-judge basis, all major trial calendars exhibited an increase in productivity during the 1981 court year as compared with 1980. The increase in dispositions per judge assigned was the most dramatic on the Tax Court calendar (+34.8%). Other calendars showing substantial increases in dispositions per judge during 1981 included: General Equity +12.9%, Matrimonial +11.6%, Juvenile and Domestic Relations +10.8%, and Civil +10.6%. This increased production per judge indicates more effective use of judicial resources on all calendars.

TRENDS IN JUDICIAL WORKLOADS

The trends in the manner of disposing of trial court cases has changed somewhat over the last five years. The number of cases resolved through settlement has risen by 35.3%, a faster rate than the total number of dispositions (28.7%).

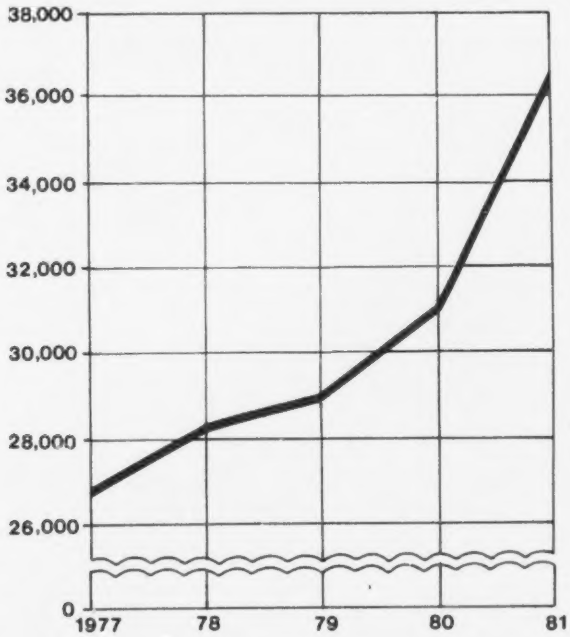
CASES CONCLUDED BY PLEA OR SETTLEMENT
1977-1981



The table below details the increase in settlements achieved between 1977 and 1981. Overall, civil settlements have increased by 53.1%, led by percentage increases in Matrimonial (+152.5%), Civil (+72.3%), and General Equity (+73.4%). Criminal settlements (pleas of guilty or non vult) have increased at a slower pace (+19.2%) but have risen considerably in the past year with the onset of the Speedy Trial Program. In terms of number of cases settled, trial judges resolved 9,433 more cases through settlement (exclusive of J&DR cases) in 1981 than they did in 1977.

In recent years there has been an emphasis on diversion in J&DR courts. During 1981, 45,899 out of 113,979, or 40.3%, Juvenile Delinquent and Juvenile in Need of Supervision (JINS) were disposed through referral to diversion programs whereas, in 1977, only 24,767 out of 81,675, or 30.3%, of juvenile cases were disposed through the referral process.

Although there has been a tremendous increase in settlement activity over the past five years, there has also been an increase in trials. Overall, the number of trials has increased by 23.6% from 1977 to 1981.

Increased trial activity in 1981 compared to 1980 was greatest in the General Equity and Matrimonial calendars. Only the Civil calendar showed a decrease in the number of cases concluded by trial.

Motion activity is also significantly up in the past five years (motions are recorded on all major trial dockets except J&DR court). In 1981, judges heard 52,016, or 35.7% more motions than were heard in 1977.

It is interesting to compare how judicial workloads vary by type of trial court to which a judge is assigned. The table below indicates that a judge assigned full-time to Law Civil cases would have 47 trials and 1,241 motions in the course of a year.

A majority (731 out of 1,241) motions heard are uncontested while the majority of the trials (30 out of 47) are jury trials.

Judges assigned full-time to the Criminal calendar average 604 motions and 33 trials per year. A majority of the motions heard (350 out of 604) are contested and the vast majority of the trials (28 out of 33) are jury trials. Thus, in the Law Division (Civil and Criminal) the clear majority of trials require juries.

Trials in the Chancery Division of the Superior Court are almost entirely non-jury. Judges assigned full-time to General Equity matters average 615 motions and 86 trials per year. A majority of the motions (412) are contested and virtually all of the trials are non-jury.

Allocation of Judge Time

From 1977 to 1981, total judge bench and settlement hours devoted to the six major trial calendars in the counties have increased by 15.0% from 246,184 to 283.137. This increase was twice the rate of increase of available judges (8.1%). In total, there were 36,953 more judge hours available in 1981 than in 1977.

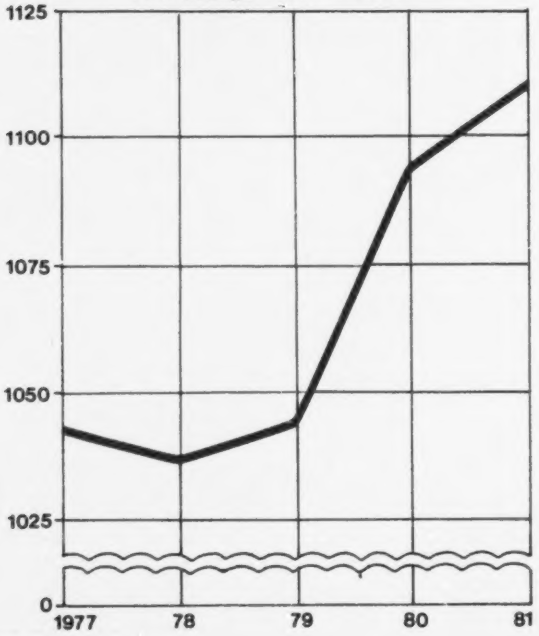
TOTAL BENCH AND SETTLEMENT HOURS PER JUDGE 1977-1981



Per available judge, annual bench and settlement hours increased by 6.4% from 1,042 to 1,109 providing the additional case processing time required. Almost all of this increase was realized in the past two years. This increase in annual hours per judge is another example of the extraordinary judicial efforts toward expeditious case disposition.

Fig. 16 below shows that the largest increases in judge time occurred on the Criminal and Matrimonial calendars. Over a five-year period, however, the Civil and General Equity calendars also increased significantly.

Figure 17 presents the percentage of total judge hours devoted to the six major trial court calendars.

In summary, it is clear that the most dramatic trend in judicial workload over recent years has been the increase in productivity. The judicial resources available have increased slightly, but the cases disposed of have increased substantially. Part of this productivity is due to the increase in settlements and the decline in the trial rate in the major time-consuming matters in the Law Division of the Superior Court. At the same time, the increased workload, including substantial increases in motions, show that the judges are working harder and developing new techniques to cope with ever-greater demands on their time.

Administrative Office of the Courts

The Administrative Office of the Courts (AOC) is the administrative arm of the Chief Justice, who is designated by the New Jersey Constitution as administrative head of the court system. The Chief Justice appoints the Director of the AOC.

The AOC continually monitors and evaluates the operations of the state judicial system under the direction of the Chief Justice. This work includes the gathering of statistics on the workload of the courts, the development of training programs for judges and staff, the budget, personnel, and office support tasks essential to judicial operations, and the responses to requests for information about the judiciary.

The AOC also plans and implements reforms in judicial administration. Under the supervision of the Chief Justice, these changes extend to every area of court activity: criminal case processing, probation office administration, clerical support, jury improvement, streamlined procedures in trial and appellate courts, and municipal court operations are just a few of the many areas of current interest. These reforms may involve responses to new legislation, rule changes, or administrative policies.

* Data of "Cases Pending" as of August 31, 1980 differs from the data published in the Annual Report for 1979-80 because of changes due to physical inventories and recount in the counties during 1981.

 There were 21 appeals certified during 1980-81 and 31 appeals during 1979-80. The number of appeals certified from the Appellate Division before calendaring may not agree with the number of certifications received by the Supreme court due to variances in case classification and docketing procedures.

* Data on cases pending as of August 31, 1980 differs from the data published in the Annual Report for 1979-80 because of changes due to physical inventories and recounts in the counties during 1981.

1/ Cases added and cases disposed do not include appeals certified by the Supreme Court before calendaring. There were 21 appeals certified during 1980-81 and 31 appeals during 1979-80. The number of appeals certified from the Appellate Division before calendaring may not agree with the number of certifications received by the Supreme Court due to variances in case classification and docketing procedures.

2/ Cases added and cases disposed include appeals certified by the Supreme Court before calendaring.

STATISTICAL TABLES PREPARED BY THE CENTRAL APPELLATE RESEARCH STAFF
SEPTEMBER 1, 1980 to AUGUST 31, 1981

B

The primary function of the Central Appellate Research Staff is the preparation of in-depth legal memoranda on cases of intermediate complexity pending before the Appellate Division of the Superior Court. The objective is to provide the court with pre-decisional research which will be of assistance in the ultimate disposition of the appeals. As an adjunct to the research function the Staff collects and compiles statistical data related to the intermediate appellate process in New Jersey. The following tables represent the data collected for the 1980 - 1981 court year. They provide a wealth of information concerning the intermediate appellate court but no attempt will be made here to comment on the information beyond that which is necessary to explain or illustrate the purposes of the various tables.

For those who may be interested in comparing the information contained in these tables with the information compiled by the staff in prior years, it should be noted that Tables 3, 5 and 6 have again been eliminated. These tables last appeared in the 1973-74 report but thereafter it was determined that the relatively limited information provided by these tables did not justify the time and effort expended in collecting and compiling the data. The remaining tables have not been renumbered so comparison with prior reporting periods can be easily achieved.

Table 1 shows the time intervals from the point of an appealable decision, through the various stages of the intermediate appellate process and ultimately to decision by the Appellate Division. This year the time lapse intervals have been calculated upon the 3,747 appeals decided by the Appellate Division during the 1980-81 court year. Within Table 1 the cases are broken down into the categories of civil and criminal. "Quasi-criminal" matters such as disorderly persons offenses have been placed into the criminal category. Juvenile cases, being neither civil nor criminal, have been classified as criminal. Prior to the 1976-77 court year juvenile cases had been classified as civil. The change was made in an effort to keep in step with the tenor of the times. Table 1 is also broken down into appeals which were accompanied by a memorandum from the Central Appellate Research Staff ("Staff Processed") and those which were not. In using this table (as well as Tables 1A and 2) it is suggested that the median is probably the most meaningful measure of central tendency ("average").

Tables 1A is a further breakdown of criminal cases in an effort to provide a significant comparison between the time lapse in staff-processed cases and non staff-processed cases. The middle column represents those appeals where the only issue raised was that the sentence imposed was excessive. Because of the relative ease with which these cases can be decided they are never accompanied by a staff memorandum. Thus, Table 1A permits elimination of these cases when comparing staff-processed criminal appeals and non staff-processed criminal appeals.

Table 2 is essentially a further breakdown of one aspect of the time lapse between appealable decision and the opinion rendered by the Appellate Division. It sets out data on motions made to the Appellate Division for extensions of time in relation to the filing of briefs. Under the Rules Governing the Courts of the State of New Jersey an appellant has 45 day period within which to file a brief, and once filed a respondent has 30 days to file an answering brief. R.2:6-11. Table 2 shows extensions granted to permit filing beyond the time limits specified in the rule. In certain appeals extensions are granted to both the appellant and the respondent or more than one extension may have been granted to either side. Therefore, although the Appellate Division granted a total of 1,368 extensions those occurred in only 1,052 appeals. All percentages relate to the 1,052 appeals where extensions were granted rather than to all appeals decided during the court year.

Table 4 is a breakdown of the types of cases which are appealed. It sets out the number of cases, the number of reversals and the number of affirmances in each of the 19 generic categories. The figures are also provided on a percentage basis with the "percent of total" relating to all appeals decided during the court year (3,747) and the other percentage calculations relating only to the specific category. The term "reversed," as used in this table, includes not only those appeals where the entire judgment was reversed but also those appeals where the judgment was modified, vacated or reversed only in part. This is done in an effort to reflect more accurately the instances where appellants were successful, although perhaps not on every issue raised.

It should be noted that in the 1974-75 report the category "Criminal Guilty Plea" contained only the appeals where the sole issue raised was the validity of the plea itself. The category was expanded starting with the 1975-76 report to include all appeals from guilty pleas regardless of the type or number of issues raised, the sole exception being appeals from guilty pleas where the only issue presented was a claim of excessive sentence. The latter type of appeal is currently contained in the category "Criminal Sentence Review Only."

Table 7 is a compilation of the issues raised on appeal in all cases decided by the Appellate Division during the court year. It shows not only the number of times a specific issue has been raised, but also the number of times any given issue was successful on appeal.

The second column from the left reflects the percentage computation of the number of times a specific issue was raised in the 3,747 appeals decided during the court year. For example, in 26.47 percent of all appeals decided, the appellants argued that the trial judges' or agencies' findings of fact were erroneous, inadequate or not supported by the evidence.

The fourth column from the left, on the other hand, is a percentage calcuation of the number of times an issue was successful as against the number of times it was raised. Using the same example the table shows that the argument concerning the fact finding of the judge or agency succeeded 123 times although raised 992 times, for a "success rate" of 12.40 percent.

A word of caution is appropriate concerning any conclusions that might be drawn from the figures in the third and fourth columns. In some instances the Appellate Division will reverse a judgment based upon an issue not specifically raised. This reason for reversal is reflected in the third and fourth columns but not in the first column because the issue causing reversal was not specifically advanced by the appellant. In the vast majority of categories this variation will produce only a slight change in the statistics and the fourth column will give a reasonable accurate percentage in reference to the first column. In a few categories, however, this form of variation may be the reason for what appears to be an inordinately high percentage in the fourth column. See e.g., "Plenary Hearing Needed."

Table 8 is a tabulation of the Central Appellate Research Staff's production over the 12 month period. It shows the cases worked on by the Staff during the 1980-81 court year, although not every case worked on was decided by the court during the same court year. In all probability, the cases prepared in June, July and August were not decided by the court until sometime during the 1981-82 court year. The major month-to-month fluctuations generally reflect variations in the number of attorneys on staff. During the 1980-81 court year the staff worked on 812 appeals.

TAX COURT

The Tax Court of New Jersey is a trial court having statewide jurisdiction. The court was established by the Legislature as a court of limited jurisdiction under Article VI, Section I, paragraph 1 of the New Jersey Constitution. The enabling legislation can be found in N.J.S.A. 2A:3A-1 et seq. The court reviews state and local property tax assessments; the actions and determinations of the 21 county boards of taxation with respect to local property tax matters, and determinations the Director of the Division of Taxation with respect to state taxes.

The court year 1981 marked the second year of operation of the Tax Court and the first year in which all eight Tax Court judges served for the full year. This has been a productive year. The judges, the Clerk, and their respective staffs have attained a level of experience which enables the court to operate efficiently. The backlog of unassigned and undecided cases has been substantially reduced. Improvements were made in the rules, forms, and procedures, as well as in the Clerk's Office procedures.

CASELOAD

At the beginning of the court year the number of Tax Court cases pending was 20,448. Filings, transfers, and miscellaneous applications during the court year totaled 8,343, aggregating a total of 28,791 cases. The court disposed of 15,564 cases, reducing the cases pending to 13,227 by the end of the year.

At the beginning of the court year, there were approximately 16,000 pending cases contesting pre-1979 assessments. By the end of the court year, pre-1979 cases were reduced to approximately 6,000 and in many areas of the state cases were being scheduled for hearing on a current basis.

There can be no direct comparison of the performance of the court for this court year either with that of the court's activity for the prior year or with the activity for earlier years of the court's predecessor, the Division of Tax Appeals. However, it can be noted that the total dispositions of the Tax Court for the prior court year amounted to 11,549 cases and for the fiscal years ending June 30, 1978 and 1977 the Division of Tax Appeals' dispositions totaled approximately 8,500 and 7,000 cases, respectively.

FILINGS

Local property tax cases accounted for 95% of the cases pending at the beginning of the court year and 80% of the new cases filed during the court year. Of new local property tax filings, 63% were regular complaints and 37% were small claims.

DISPOSITIONS

Ninety per cent of the local property tax cases were disposed of by settlement, withdrawal, or motion and 10% were tried to completion. Eighty-two per cent of the state tax cases, other than homestead rebate cases, were disposed of by settlement, withdrawal or motion and 18% were tried to completion. Of the homestead rebate cases, 4.4% were tried to completion, the balance being decided by settlement, withdrawal, or motion.

PENDING CASES

As of August 31, 1981, 11,803 local property tax cases, 1,417 state tax cases, and 7 equalization cases were pending. Of these, approximately 5,500 are 1980 and 1981 filings and approximately 1,500 are 1979 filings. These 7,000 cases from 1979, 1980, and 1981 are regarded as normal case inventory. The approximately 6,000 pre-1979 cases are regarded as backlog.

APPEALS FROM TAX COURT DECISIONS

During the 1980 court year, 10 Tax Court decisions were appealed to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court. An additional 53 Tax Court decisions were appealed during the 1981 court year. The Appellate Division rendered 28 decisions on Tax Court cases during the court year. These break down as follows: 14 affirmed, 8 dismissed, withdrawn or refused for filing, 5 remanded to the Tax Court for further action and 1, Alid, Inc. v. No. Bergen Tp., transferred the Tax Court case to the Law Division of the Superior Court. A Supreme Court Order of July 10, 1981 resulted in the assignment of the Alid case to a Tax Court judge temporarily assigned to the Superior Court. The appeal of the Alid case to the Supreme Court was later dismissed as moot.

At the end of the court year, appeals from 35 Tax Court decisions were pending before the Appellate Division of the Superior Court.

Appeals of Tax Court decisions to the Appellate Division of the Superior Court represented one-third of 1% of the 1981 Tax Court dispositions and 3.4% of cases tried to completion.

Petitions for certification were denied by the Supreme Court in 4 cases during the court year. Petitions for certification in 3 additional cases remained pending at the end of the court year.

PUBLICATION OF TAX COURT OPINIONS

Availability of Tax Court opinions to taxpayers, the tax bar, tax administrators, and other tax professionals is a key objective of the court. Ready access to these decisions assists in tax planning, administration, and tax enforcement.

Volume 1 of the New Jersey Tax Court Reports was published in April 1981. This volume contains 70 state and local tax opinions. Advance sheets for Volume 2 of the New Jersey Tax Court Reports were issued during the court year. It is anticipated that one bound volume of the New Jersey Tax Court Reports will be published annually.

THE JUDGES

The Tax Court maintains permanent courtrooms and chambers in Hackensack, Newark, New Brunswick, Trenton, Camden, and Mays Landing. Tax Court cases originating in Bergen, Passaic, Hudson, Essex, Union, and Middlesex Counties are heard by the judges who sit in permanent courtroom locations in northern New Jersey. The Tax Court cases originating in the remaining counties are heard in the permanent courtroom locations in Trenton, Camden, and Mays Landing and, as required, in court houses in Morristown, Belvidere, Somerville, Freehold, and Toms River.

During this court year, the judges continued to meet monthly to discuss areas of mutual concern in the operation of the court. Most of the judges also participated in educational courses in the areas of property valuation and trial procedure. In January, the Tax Court judges joined tax judges from New York, Connecticut, Maryland, Massachusetts, Oregon, and the District of Columbia at a National Conference of State Tax Judges' seminar in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

The judges also participated as speakers in educational programs sponsored by the Institute for Continuing Legal Education, the New Jersey State Bar Association, Rutgers University, the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers, and various county assessors' associations.

The Supreme Court Committee on the Tax Court was initiated with representation from the bar, taxpayers, and tax administrators. Meetings were held with representatives of the Office of the Attorney General, the Division of Taxation, the New Jersey Association of Tax Board Commissioners and County Tax Administrators, the Association of Municipal Assessors of New Jersey and the Tax Collectors and Treasurers Association of New Jersey to discuss court procedure and its relationship to the areas of tax court administration with which these organizations are concerned.

OFFICE OF THE CLERK OF THE COURT

The Office of the Clerk is the administrative arm of the Tax Court. A significant function of the Clerk's Office is to provide information and sample forms to taxpayers. A team system has been established, and is operating successfully, to handle the large volume of filings which occur during peak filing periods. Since the initiation of this system, acknowledgments of filings, with assigned docket numbers, are being sent to all parties, and filing fees are being verified within 48 hours after receipt.

The relationship between the Office of the Clerk of the Tax Court and the county tax administrators, tax assessors, and tax collectors was explored by meetings with representatives of these organizations. As a result, the Tax Court Clerk's Office established procedures to inform county tax administrators of Tax Court appeals and their results.

STANDARDS OF ASSESSMENT AND LEGAL PRINCIPLES UTILIZED BY THE TAX COURT

Local property tax cases generally involve a determination of value of the property for assessment purposes. Value for assessing purposes is fair market value, the price that would be paid by a willing purchaser and that a willing seller would accept, neither being compelled to buy nor sell. It is the fair market value standard that is utilized to achieve the uniformity in assessment that is required by the New Jersey Constitution. The court applies the valuation principles required by the statute and the Constitution and determines fair market value by application of such of the three approaches to value as may be presented in evidence. These three approaches are: (1) the market approach, which estimates value based on comparable sales, (2) the cost approach, which estimates value based on construction cost less depreciation, and (3) the income approach, which estimates value based on capitalization of the income stream produced by the property. Local property tax cases sometimes involve a claim of discrimination. In such cases, the court has followed the legal principles established by the Supreme Court in In re Appeals of Kents 2124 Atlantic Ave., Inc., 35 N.J. 21 (1961) and the Supreme Court decision dealing with discrimination which followed.

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR LEGISLATIVE CHANGES

Based on the cases heard by the court, it appears that the system for review of state and local tax disputes is generally functioning satisfactorily. However, the experience of the court with taxpayers, attorneys, and tax administrators has revealed areas where the state and local tax system can be improved. Legislative chages that might be considered at this time are:

1. A Technical Changes Act to update the statutes by deleting references to the "Board of Tax Appeals" and "Division of Tax Appeals," correcting filing time period inconsistencies, and making other procedural changes necessary to accommodate present Tax Court procedure.

2. Clarification of the provision for direct appeal to the Tax Court in local property tax cases where the assessment exceeds $750,000 to specifically deal with added and omitted assessments. (N.J.S.A. 54:3-21.)

3. A statutory definition of personal property for the purpose of distinguishing such property from real property when dealing with the real property tax and the business personal property tax.

4. The case of Galloway Tp. v. Dorflinger, 2 N.J. Tax 358 (Tax Ct. 1980), raises the question of whether some reduction in property tax should be afforded a taxpayer whose property is destroyed during the course of the tax year.

5. The case of Clairola-Barber Post No. 2342, Inc. v. Fort Lee, 2 N.J. Tax 262 (Tax Ct. 1981), points out the existence of a conflict between N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.5 and N.J.S.A. 54:4-3.25 as to property owned by veterans' organizations. Section 3.5 was referred to by the court as "the most liberal of our state's many exemption statutes" because it does not require exclusive use for veterans' purposes.

NOTICE TO READERS

Beginning March 1, 1981, caseload data reported from the Matrimonial Courts reflects cases as added to the calendar upon filing of a complaint. Prior Matrimonial reporting definitions required that cases be added to the calendar only after an answer or appearance had been made (usually serveral months after the date of the complaint). This change in reporting definitions has necessitated a recount of all open Matrimonial complaints as of March 1, 1981.

Statewide, a total of 19,021 Matrimonial complaints were open as of March 1, 1981 compared with the tally of 6,685 under the prior reporting definitions. Therefore, an additional 12,336 cases were placed on the trial calendars adjusting for the new reporting definitions.

This adjustment was shown as additional cases pending but without being included in cases added for March, 1981. Starting with March, 1981, new Matrimonial complaints filed and received by the county will be recorded as cases added.

2/ An indictment is considered disposed by non-jury trial if the opening is started or, if the opening is waived, the first witness is sworn.

3/ Inactive cases are those so marked by order of the court as untriable for reasons beyond the control of the court or prosecutor, included are fugitives, John Does, defendants incarcerated in another state, etc.

* As reported in the 1979-80 Annual Report. Subsequent recounts amounted to -61 cases pending as of 8/31/80.

NOTE: For the purpose of this page, each defendant named on each indictment is counted as a separate case. For example, if A and B are indicted in one indictment containing five counts against each defendant, there are two cases: one against A and one against B. If A is indicted on four indictments, there are four cases against A. In other words, each indictment against each defendant constitutes a separate case.

MUNICIPAL COURT DEFENDANTS STATUS REPORT

The column headings of the tables that follow are described below:

(The tables refer to defendants whose municipal court trials were completed this year - Status at commencement of trial. Columns 5 et seq deal with Municipal Court trials whereas columns 1 & 3 also include indictable offenses.)

"COMPLAINT/SUMMONSES FILED AND COMPLAINT/WARRANTS FILED -- INDICTABLE OFFENSES AND NON-INDICTABLE OFFENSES."

A summons may issue in lieu of a warrant if the person taking the complaint has reason to believe that the defendant will appear. R. 7:3-1(d). It is the policy of the Supreme Court that wherever appropriate a complaint/summons shall issue instead of a complaint/warrant.

"BAIL OR JAIL STATUS OF DEFENDANTS AT BEGINNING OF TRIAL."

The unit of the count is the defendant.

In the section "Released on Own Recognizance" the reporting instructions specify that it should include only those defendants who were actually arrested, held, and then released after the prescribed ROR procedures. (Includes a recognizance form signed and executed before the person authorized to take bail). It is not intended to include defendants on whom summonses were served (traffic or other) without arrest. It should be noted, however, that for some courts it is apparent that the reporting instructions may not have been followed in all instances.

"NUMBER OF DEFENDANTS ON NON-INDICTABLE OFFENSES REPRESENTED BY ASSIGNED COUNSEL OR REFERRED TO THE PUBLIC DEFENDER" and "NUMBER OF DEFENDANTS ON INDICTABLE OFFENSES REFERRED TO THE PUBLIC DEFENDER."

The number of assignments or referrals is reported, whether or not the defendant had been so represented. The data reported herein is on trials that had been completed during the court year.

N

COST OF OPERATING THE COURTS

In 1981, total state, county and municipal expenditures for the courts amounted to $138,647,850 an increase of 12.5% over 1980's expenditures. The total revenues raised by the courts to all levels of government also increased, to a total of $102,777,969, or 7.8% over the previous year. The trend in increasing expenditures and revenues is shown in the chart below.

TOTAL EXPENDITURES & REVENUES
1980-1981

	1980	1981	% Change
Total Expenditures	$123,274,110	$138,647,850	+ 12.5%
Total court related revenues	$ 95,338,341	$102,777,969	+ 7.8%

The trend over the past five years is consistent. The total amount spent for the Judiciary has increased by 41.6%, considerably less than the increases in the national cost-of-living index for the same period. Likewise, the total increase in court-generated revenue has been 54.4%.

Throughout the section on finances, several caveats are important to note. First, the time period is referred to as 1981. For state expenditures and revenues, the reference is to the 1981 fiscal year, from July 1, 1980 to June 30, 1981. For county and municipal funds, the reference is to costs and revenue during the calendar year 1980. Second, county and municipal data mostly come from audit reports to the Division of Local Government Services. The counties and municipalities use different account codes and categories, so they are not always comparable among the different levels of government, and there are some gaps in the data available.

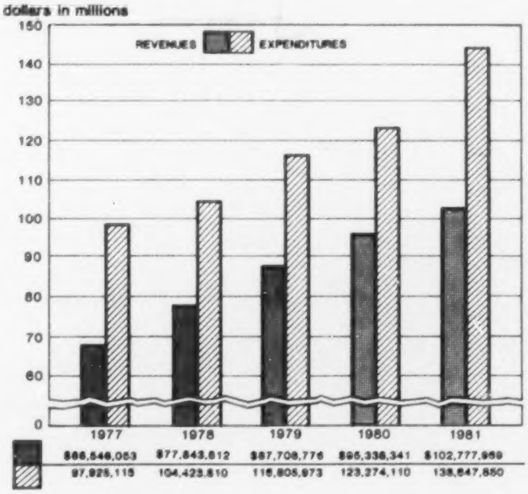
TOTAL EXPENDITURES v. TOTAL REVENUE 1977 - 81



EXPENDITURES

The total amount spent to operate the Judiciary in 1981 for state, county, and municipal sources was $138,647,850. Of this total, 23.3% came from the State, 61.6% from the counties, and 15.1% from the municipalities.

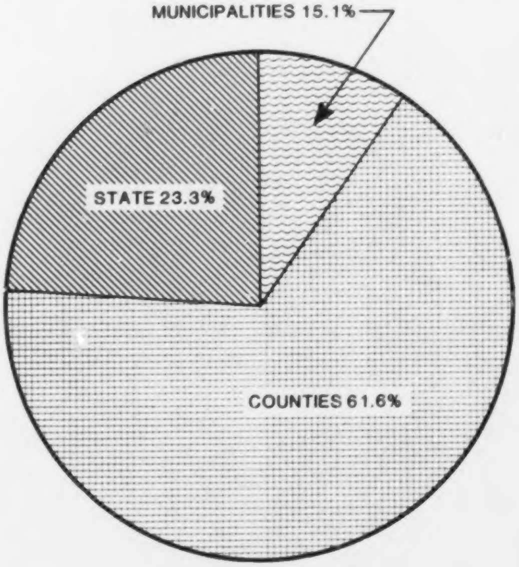
SOURCES OF FUNDS 1981



From 1977 to 1980 the state percentage of total court expenditures had been slowly but steadily increasing, from 18.3% in 1977 to 24.2% in 1980; and the counties' share of expenditures had been decreasing from 65.5% to 60.6%. The municipal share had been fairly steady at about 15%. In 1981, there was very little change: all three sources provided about the same percentage they had in 1980. Figure 4 illustrates the trend.

State Funds

State expenditures for the courts support salaries for the Supreme Court justices and the 236 Superior Court judges. In addition, the State funds all staff salaries and operating expenses of the Supreme Court, the Appellate Division and Chancery Division of the Superior Court, the Tax Court, the Administrative Office of the Courts, court reporting services, and other court support units. The total of these expenses in 1981 was $32,355,904, an 8.3% increase over the $29,880,336 spent the year before.

Despite the increase in state funds for the Judiciary, the total amount appropriated for the courts represented only .7% of the total state budget. For the last several years, the Judiciary's budget has been slightly more than one-half of one percent of the State's total.

County Funds

The counties fund most of the total judicial expenditures. In the last year, the counties expended $85,405,771, or 62% of all funds spent on the courts. That figure is an increase of 14.3% over the $74,744,129 spent the previous year.

The counties fund salaries and operating expenses in the Superior Court, Law Division (excluding salaries, home library program, and travel expenses of the judges), the county district courts, juvenile and domestic relations courts, and related activities such as jury commissions, surrogates' office, probation departments, and law libraries.

Municipal Funds

During 1981, municipalities supported the 529 municipal courts at a cost of $20,886,175, or 15.5% of the total judicial expenditures. This figure represents a 12% increase over the expenses of the municipalities the year before. Municipal funds pay for all expenses of the municipal courts, including salaries for judges and staff and all operating expenses.

Expenditures for the municipal courts were highest in Essex County, with $2.7 million, and lowest in Salem County, with just $226,000.

THE JUDICIAL DOLLAR

By far, the bulk of the Judiciary's funds was used to pay salaries for judges, their staffs, court reporters, court clerks' staffs, and administrative costs. The total amount paid for salaries was $123.8 million, or 89.3% of all Judiciary funds. The chart below breaks down the main categories of expenses.

Municipal	4.6	13.5	2.8	20.9
Total	$21.0	$102.8	$14.8	$138.6

The State's Dollar

At the state level, the total increase was 8.3%. The $32.3 million total expenditure included only $3.9 million in non-salary expenses. The state-paid non-salary operating expenses actually declined by $82,000, or 4.4%, in 1981 compared to 1980. At the same time, salaries increased by 10%.

The chart below breaks down the total State expenses by major functional category. It shows that more than 65% of the total State funds went to direct expenses for operating the courts. Court support services, including court reporters, took 28% of all State expenditures, and about 7% went to court administration.

The Counties' Dollar

Of the $85.4 million expended by the counties for court-related matters, the two large categories were for clerks' office support for the Law Division of the Superior Court, and the Probation Department. The chart below shows the functional categories of county expenses.

Finally, the expenses of the municipalities for the State's 529 municipal courts rose to $20.9 million. Of this total, 86.6% was for salaries, and only 13.4% for operating expenses.

REVENUES

New Jersey courts are not designed to be self-supporting. The courts receive a substantial amount of money for fines, bail forfeitures, costs, filing fees, and certain other fees in the course of handling the cases submitted to them. In 1981, the total amount of funds received was $102,777,969, an increase of 7.8% over the $95,338,341 raised the year before. These funds are neither kept by the courts nor used for judicial purposes; they go to the State General Fund or to the counties and municipalities.

The following table shows the trend in court-related revenue over the last five years. It shows that total revenues have risen by 54.4% since 1977.

The distribution of revenues among the levels of government is very different from the distribution of expenses. Only the municipalities collect more in court-generated revenues than they spend for the courts, and the municipalities received 68.7% of the total for the last year. (The State received 12.4% of the total, and the counties took in 18.9%.) See Figure 4, above.

State Revenues

Most of the revenues generated at the state level come from fees and commissions of the Superior Court. Figure 9 shows the breakdown of the sources of state funds.

Fig. 9

STATE GENERATED REVENUES - 1981

Supreme Court	$ 246,041	1.9%
Superior Court	11,047,432	86.4%

General Support	2,160	0.02%
Probation Services	1,035,918	8.1%
Total	$12,792,112	100.0%

The bulk of the funds comes from case filing fees. In addition, the Supreme Court receives fees for bar examinations, the Superior Court receives commissions from handling trust funds, the court reporters' services receive payments by counties (pursuant to N.J.S. 2A:11-16), and the State receives funds from certain fines related to probation (pursuant to P.L. 1979,C. 396). These funds go to the State General Fund.

1981	$12,792,112	$19,397,443	$70,588,414	$102,777,969

County Revenues

Court-related revenues to the counties decreased in 1981 for the first time in the last several years. The $19,397,443 collected was 1.3% less than the year before. The funds come from filing fees, fines, and penalties.

Municipal Revenues

The bulk of all the court-generated revenues goes to municipalities. Fines, court costs, and bail forfeitures from the municipal courts amounted to $70,588,414, an increase of 6.4% over the funds collected one year before.

Superior Court Trust Fund

The Superior Court Trust Fund consists of monies deposited in Court as the result of various types of litigation, the more common of which are: condemnations, foreclosures, liquidations, dissolutions, sales of infants' lands, receivers' and trustees' accounts, interpleaders, partitions, dower and curtesy interests, and cash in lieu of bonds. Unless otherwise ordered by the court, the monies deposited with the court are commingled and become part of the general fund.

Since September 1948, when the Trust Fund became the responsibility of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, all investments have been in U.S. Government or federal agency securities. During 1981 interest paid to depositors was 8%.

Pursuant to the Chief Justice's direction, the Supreme Court Committee on the Disposition of Excess Reserves is determining how to return to depositors excess reserves accumulated during the years in which interest earned by the Fund was substantially in excess of that paid out.

The State is reimbursed for the salaries and expenses of operating the Trust Fund (N.J.S.A. 2A:15-74), receives a commission on the disbursement of deposits in Court (N.J.S.A. 22A:2-20), and receives, as unclaimed deposits, funds from all accounts that have been inactive for a period of ten years (N.J.S.A. 2A:15-76 to 85). For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1981, the salaries and expenses amounted to $73,698 and the commissions to $204,934. Unclaimed deposits first escheated to the State Treasurer in 1947. Since that time a total of $3,814,843.59 in eight separate installments has gone to the State by escheat. The latest installment, made in 1980, amounted to $761,871.82.

FEDERAL FUNDS

In 1981, the Judiciary received and allocated about $1.2 million in federal funds. This expenditure is in addition to the state and local funds previously described. Most of these funds come from the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA). With the demise of LEAA and the overall reduction in federal government spending in this area, the funds received last year are likely to be the last major infusion of federal funds in the New Jersey courts in the foreseeable future.

The total of federal funds allocated in 1981 was $1,212,718. This amount came from four sources: LEAA funds available to New Jersey in block grants from the State Law Enforcement Planning Agency (SLEPA), discretionary funds direct from LEAA, the National Institute of Corrections, and the Office of Highway Safety. Figure 10 shows the amounts from each source.

The federal funds were allocated in a total of 18 separate grants or projects. They can be grouped and classified as follows:

1.	TASC Projects (Treatment Alternatives Street Crime)	$ 551,558
2.	Education and Training (both judges and non-judicial)	222,732
3.	Court Structure and Information Services	190,825
4.	Probation	107,246
5.	Criminal Sentences and Disposition	78,138
6.	Judicial Coordinating Committee	62,219
	Total	$1,212,718

There will doubtless be a hard adjustment over the next few years, as federal funds are not widely available for justice-related activities. Over the last five years, over $7 million has been used by the Judiciary at the State and local levels for judicial education, computerization, probation programs, municipal court improvement, jury system reform, and efficiency programs. These activities have been a vital part of the continuing effort to improve the performance of the New Jersey courts. Most of these programs would probably not have been undertaken without federal funds. Future projects for improvement may be difficult to fund.

* Statistics on county administered probation training programs are collected on a monthly basis; therefore, a staff member participating in more than one program or in a program lasting more than one month would be counted once for each month and each training program. As a result, the number of hours of training is cumulative but the number of persons trained is not.

 In calculating the monthly average number of persons involved in training, fractions are rounded to the next highest number to reflect whole persons. In calculating the monthly average number of hours, fractions are rounded to the nearest whole number.
